Can't Stop Won't Stop* is the definitive young adult history of hip hop, from its origins in the Bronx in the 1970s to its global dominance today. Jeff Chang, a leading expert on hip hop culture, has crafted a narrative that is both informative and engaging, perfect for young people who are interested in learning more about this dynamic and influential art form.

The book begins with the story of DJ Kool Herc, who is credited with inventing hip hop in 1973. Chang then traces the development of hip hop through the 1980s and 1990s, as it grew from a local phenomenon to a global force. He discusses the key figures in hip hop history, including Grandmaster Flash, Afrika Bambaataa, Run-DMC, Public Enemy, and Tupac Shakur. He also explores the different styles of hip hop, from breakdancing to graffiti to rap music.

Can't Stop Won't Stop is more than just a history book. It is also a celebration of hip hop culture. Chang shows how hip hop has given voice to the voiceless and empowered young people around the world. He argues that hip hop is not just a form of entertainment, but a powerful force for social change.

Can't Stop Won't Stop is an essential read for any young person who is interested in hip hop culture. It is a book that will inform, inspire, and empower.
